Transcriber's Office
FLOOR DEBATE

March 30, 2006 LB 745

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Janssen.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is that true, Senator Janssen?

SENATOR JANSSEN: I didn't hear what your question was, Senator Chambers.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Do I need to speak louder?

SENATOR JANSSEN: No, I was...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, why didn't you hear what I said?

SENATOR JANSSEN: Because I was carrying on another conversation on the floor with legal counsel to the committee.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: I thought, though, when a senator is talking to another senator, the questioner is entitled to have the "questionee" pay attention in order to answer the question. Is that your understanding of how we do things around here?

SENATOR JANSSEN: Yes, but at that time, you asked Senator Synowiecki, who was the "questionee," the question.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator, let me start again.

SENATOR JANSSEN: That would be fine.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Janssen, based on the language in the committee amendment and in the green copy, there could be a large screen on which a race is projected and the way a person would be allowed to participate is to lay the money down, giving his or her bet, and then the race could be shown on that screen. That could be done under the language of this amendment, couldn't it?

SENATOR JANSSEN: I would imagine it could, although I doubt very much whether that would be what happens because they would...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Senator Janssen, I'm talking about the
