FLOOR DEBATE

April 3, 2006

LB 808

SENATOR RAIKES: Yes, that's right. Or whether or not...I mean, even if there weren't a residence on the farm site, if there were just a barn, and that was being converted, yeah.

SENATOR STUTHMAN: And they just converted the old barn, the old barn that was on the farmstead, and turned that into a residence, and made a very beautiful, attractive-looking residence?

SENATOR RAIKES: Right.

SENATOR STUTHMAN: Okay, thank you. That's all I have. Thank you, Mr. Speaker.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Thank you, Senator Stuthman. Senator Louden.

SENATOR LOUDEN: Yes, thank you, members of the body. I'd like to ask Senator Raikes a question, if he would yield, please.

SENATOR CUDABACK: Senator Raikes, would you reply?

SENATOR RAIKES: Yes.

SENATOR LOUDEN: Senator Raikes, what...how does this work for, oh, where they have some circle pivots, and then a lot of times they'll sell a corner off them, and then someone near a small town or large town or whatever will build a residence on there? Will this address that question?

SENATOR RAIKES: Senator, if you're talking about a situation in which a...somebody would build or move in a house for a residence,...

SENATOR LOUDEN: Yeah, just build a farmstead. I mean, that happens quite often. There's...on the corners of circle pivots, they'll sell off that corner, and then someone will build a residence that, they're not in the farming business or anything, they're just using it as a country residence. There will be houses, and they'll have a garage or whatever they have that it takes. But I was wondering, does that affect how that's going to be zoned or how that's going to be valued?
