you call my attention to that?

SENATOR KREMER: No, there is not any place for lottery funds distribution, but the board is the one that awards the grants using the lottery funds.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Well, Senator Kremer, there are various stores and other commercial establishments that sell lottery tickets, is that true?

SENATOR KREMER: That's true.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Is that true?

SENATOR KREMER: Yes, yes, it is.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And if a person hits on one of these lottery tickets, at some of these establishments you give them that winning ticket, and they give you what you want. Is that true?

SENATOR KREMER: I don't know. I've never bought one. Yes, I'm sure that it is, but then I've never had the privilege of investing.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So, that grocery store or whatever it is actually distributes lottery funds. Is that true?

SENATOR KREMER: That's true.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Would that make a bill that relates to grocers and their activities pertinent to Senator McDonald's bill, just because they distribute lottery funds?

SENATOR KREMER: Well, it does to me. It might not to you, but it does to me.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: It does to you? It does to you?

SENATOR KREMER: Yes.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: So then we could attach to her bill an
