Explanation of Estimate:

LB 997 Changes provisions relating to high voltage conductor safety. The bill requires that application for permit, for vehicles moving buildings or objects requiring specialized moving dolies, shall specifically describe the load to be moved, which includes written proof that the electric utility responsible for any high voltage conductors, poles, and other electric-related infrastructure along the proposed route has been notified of the move and whenever possible, describe the particular highways for which the permit is requested.

This LB does not change when a permit is required or the permit fee.

No fiscal impact to Department of Roads is anticipated.
