LB903 amends the Nebraska Criminal Code to make it unlawful to utilize an unmanned aircraft to view or record another person in the state of undress, including as it is occurring. Further, it would be unlawful for a person to intentionally use an unmanned aircraft to secretly view property of any another person, including property owned by such person and leased or rented to another.

The Department of Transportation does not anticipate a fiscal impact.

The Supreme Court anticipates a need to provide further judicial and court education, however they indicate this can be accommodated within their existing appropriation.

There is no basis to disagree with either agency's assessment of impact.
