LB 1122 amends the Land Surveyors Regulation Act.

LB 1122 adds to the definition of land surveying to include control surveys.

Additionally, LB 1122 provides that surveyors, those aiding surveyors, or surveyors-in-training may:

- Enter public or private lands or waterways, except for buildings, to make a land survey;
- Investigate a boundary location;
- Locate, use or install a survey monument; and
- Use any equipment necessary to make a land survey.

Lastly, LB 1122 outlines that surveyors, those aiding surveyors, or surveyors-in-training are liable for any damages caused to private property entered by such parties. Additionally, these parties may not claim any unintentional damages or injuries caused by an owner or tenant that might occur after entry into such private property.

The State Surveyor & Board of Examiners for Land Surveyors estimate no fiscal impact. There is no basis to disagree with this estimate.
