LB 220 requires the Legislature to create a developmental and intellectual disability impact note for proposed legislation to estimate the potential effects of a legislative bill on disparities in economic, employment, health, education, and public safety outcomes for persons with developmental and intellectual disabilities. The impact note would be prepared upon request of the introducer of the bill, subject to approval by the Executive Board. The Legislative Research Office is tasked with preparing the impact note.

The Legislative Council estimates that additional responsibilities could be accomplished with existing staff.

No fiscal impact.
