LB 222 permits officers to only stop a vehicle for equipment failure if it involves the operator's vehicle and poses an immediate safety risk. They must log the reason before the stop and explain it to the driver, without consent searches or unrelated questioning unless there's clear evidence of another crime. Stops for nonmoving violations, certain suspended licenses, or most misdemeanor warrants are prohibited. Vehicle searches require a warrant or voluntary written consent, with no penalty for refusal. Evidence from unlawful stops or searches cannot be used in court.

There is no fiscal impact to the state.
