LB 907 defines certain locations as “community safe spaces” and generally prohibits law enforcement from entering nonpublic areas of those locations to enforce immigration law without a judicially issued warrant, except in exigent circumstances. The bill specifies that only judicial search warrants, or judicial arrest warrants when the officer knows the subject is present, authorize entry, and that administrative immigration warrants or removal orders are not sufficient. Evidence obtained in violation is inadmissible in any Nebraska trial or evidentiary hearing. The bill includes severability and takes effect immediately under the emergency clause.

There is no fiscal impact.
