This bill removes medication aides from the Uniform Licensing Laws and changes the renewal period from every three years to every two.

Removing the medication aides from the Uniform Licensing Law would allow a different fee structure to be implemented, generating more fees. Currently, medication aides pay $8 every three years to renew their credentials. Fees are not adequate to cover the cost of regulation of the medication aides, so state general funds borrowed from one-time savings from other agency programs are being used to supplement the cost. Under this bill, medication aides would pay $8 every two years. An additional $138,000 would be generated annually. The general funds allocated to cover the costs for the medication aides will revert to the original intended purposes.
