This bill would redefine abuse for certain domestic violence situations.

The Department of Correctional Services (DCS) estimates no fiscal impact. The response follows:

LB968 changes language in statute relating to the offenses of domestic assault in the 3rd degree, by removing the word 'imminent' from the current offense of "places, by physical menace, his or her intimate partner in fear of imminent bodily injury". The offense is a Class I misdemeanor, except subsequent violations within twelve years are a Class IV felony.

There is not anticipated to be any impact on the Department of Correctional Services.
