STATE EXECUTIVE BRANCH

The executive branch of Nebraska’s state government has six officers, several departments and other governmental agencies and bodies.

Executive officers authorized by the state constitution, Article IV, Section 1, are the governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, treasurer and attorney general. Other elected executive officials are the members of the State Board of Education, the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska and the Public Service Commission.

Executive officers are elected by popular vote to four-year terms, except the lieutenant governor, who is appointed by the governor as part of the election process. The governor and treasurer may serve only two consecutive terms; other executive officers may serve an unlimited number of terms.

The executive branch has departments, agencies, boards, commissions, committees, councils, authorities and other governmental bodies. Some were established in the state constitution, others were established by statute or created by executive order of the governor.

The full-fledged departments and agencies of state government are either code agencies or noncode agencies. Code agencies are subject to the governor’s direct control. The directors of code agencies serve at the pleasure of the governor, are members of the governor’s cabinet and are directly accountable to him or her. Noncode agencies are not subject to the governor’s direct control. The offices of the secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, attorney general and treasurer are considered to be noncode agencies. Both code and noncode agencies are full-fledged agencies, meaning they have their own staff, are affiliated with no other agency and appear as distinct entities in the state budget.

Editor’s note: The following descriptions of state government departments, agencies, offices and other entities were compiled with help from the Governor’s Policy Research Office, the Legislature’s Office of the Revisor of Statutes, the Legislative Fiscal Office and the agencies and offices themselves. All statutory references in this section indicate the location in the Nebraska Constitution or the Revised Statutes of Nebraska where each governmental body was established.

According to Nebraska's constitution, the supreme executive power of the state is vested in the governor. It is the governor's duty “to take care that the laws be faithfully executed and the affairs of the state efficiently and economically administered.”

The governor is the chief budget officer and must present the Legislature with a complete budget for all expenditures used in running the state's regular business. The Legislature may, by a three-fifths majority vote, appropriate more than the governor recommends for any given purpose.

By law, the governor also must:

• give information by message to the Legislature
• give accounts of all money received and spent
• appoint certain officers as required by the constitution and statutes and fill vacancies in state offices
• serve as commander-in-chief of the national and state guards
• sign or veto bills passed by the Legislature
• call elections to fill vacancies for members of the U.S. Congress
• certify notaries
• issue requisitions for the return of accused persons to Nebraska and other states and countries
• enforce criminal laws

The governor is the chairperson of the Board of State Canvassers and the Board of Pardons. The governor is a member of the State Records Board, Nebraska Capitol Commission, Education Commission of the States, State Board of Health, Interstate Oil and Gas Compact Commission, Nebraska Hall of Fame Commission, Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice and other groups as provided by law.

When Nebraska was a territory, the U.S. president appointed the governor to a four-year term. The territorial governor received a $2,500 salary.

Nebraska's first state constitution, adopted in 1866, called for the people to elect a governor to a two-year term. The governor's duties were prescribed by an act approved on June 24, 1867.

In 1962, voters approved a constitutional amendment providing that the governor would be elected to a four-year term beginning in 1966. A 1966 general election vote provided that the governor could serve only two consecutive terms. To run for governor, a person must be a resident of Nebraska for at least five years before the election and be at least 30 years old.

The governor's salary was $1,000 until raised by the constitution of 1875 to $2,500. The constitution of 1920 fixed the governor's salary at $7,500 until otherwise provided by law. The 1933 Legislature reduced the salaries of the governor and certain constitutional officers, but the Nebraska Supreme Court declared the act unconstitutional (129 Neb. 669-699). In 1947, the Legislature increased the governor's salary to $10,000, and the 1951 Legislature raised the salary to $11,000 effective in 1957. The delayed increase was because Article IV, Section 25 of the state constitution provided that no constitutional officer salary could be changed more than once in eight years. In 1956, a general election vote repealed this salary restriction. Lawmakers boosted the salary to $14,000 in 1963. Since then, senators have gradually increased the salary to its current level of $105,000.

From 1889 to 1899, the state paid the rent on a residence for the governor, except during the incumbency of Gov. Lorenzo Crounse (1893-95), who refused to accept the additional payments. In 1899, the Legislature spent $25,000 to buy and furnish an executive mansion. Of this sum, $21,385.30 was spent. The 1945 Legislature approved a new Georgian Colonial-style mansion to be built at a cost of $200,000 and completed in early 1958.

By 1997, 40 years of use had taken a toll on the mansion. First Lady Diane Nelson led a fund-raising effort to restore the governor's mansion to its original condition. The effort was co-chaired by former First Gentleman Bill Orr and partially funded by proceeds from a cookbook that he authored. After renovations were completed, the mansion was reopened to the public in August 1998.

Gov. Mike Johanns and First Lady Stephanie Johanns launched a landscaping renewal project for the governor's residence grounds in November 2001. Private donations paid for most of the project. The state allocated money to make the mansion wheelchair accessible and to comply with the Americans with Disabilities Act.

First Lady Sally Ganem established the Friends of the Governors Residence in 2006, which raised funds for technology modernization projects including a virtual tour of the residence.

In August 2007, Gov. Dave Heineman and First Lady Ganem celebrated the 50th anniversary of the governor's residence by hosting a week-long celebration for Nebraskans. The anniversary was commemorated with the release of “Inspired Recipes from Nebraska,” featuring favorite recipes from governors, senators and other Nebraska leaders.

In 2008, the residence was added to the National Registry of Historic Places.

Statutory Reference: 84-133

The Governor’s Policy Research Office, created by the 1979 Legislature, replaced the Office of Planning and Programming, created in 1969. The office helps the governor develop and review state government policy. When needed, the office coordinates and directs multiagency programs or special programs not fitting any particular agency. The office enhances the governor’s executive capability.

A small professional staff assist the governor to analyze policy options, promote executive branch cooperation and efficiency, review proposed rules and regulations, respond to public inquiries and research state and national trends. The office monitors all federal legislation that impacts state government and serves as the governor’s representative to the National Governors Association. The office monitors legislative bills, coordinates legislative activities of code agencies and coordinates the development and promotion of the governor's legislative agenda.

The agency is organized on a functional basis. Advisors in assigned policy areas serve as liaisons for the governor with state and federal agencies, local political subdivisions, constituents and other public and private entities. Advisors attend legislative briefings and hearings, meetings with state senators, legislative staff, agencies and registered lobbyists representing the governor and the interests of the state.

Lieutenant Governor: Mike Foley
Statutory Reference: Nebraska Constitution, Article IV, Section 1
Salary: $75,000

The Nebraska Constitution of 1875 made the first provision for a lieutenant governor. By law, the lieutenant governor:

• presides over the Legislature
• acts as governor when the governor is out of the state or incapacitated
• becomes governor in case of a vacancy or when the governor is permanently incapacitated
• performs duties assigned by the governor

Nebraska’s lieutenant governor also serves as director of homeland security for the state and chairman of the Governor’s Homeland Security Policy Group.

Before 1971, the office of lieutenant governor was part-time except during the biennial legislative session. When the Legislature began meeting annually, the office became full-time.

In 1962, voters approved a constitutional amendment providing that the lieutenant governor would be elected to a four-year term beginning in 1966. Before then, lieutenant governors were elected to two-year terms. From 1974 until 2002, the governor and lieutenant governor, by constitutional amendment, secured nominations at the primary election in their respective parties, then ran in the general election on one ticket from the same political party. Beginning in 2002, gubernatorial candidates choose their nominee for lieutenant governor after winning their respective parties’ primary elections.

Nebraska’s constitution of 1875 provided that the lieutenant governor receive twice the compensation of a state senator. The lieutenant governor’s salary advanced from $6 per day during the session of the 1875 Legislature to $7,500 per year in 1969. The lieutenant governor’s salary was increased to $25,000 per year in 1975, to $32,000 in 1979, to $40,000 in 1987, to $47,000 in 1991, to $60,000 in 2003 and to $75,000 in 2006.

Statutory References: Nebraska Constitution, Article IV, Section 1; and 84-502

Salary: $85,000

Since its beginning, the office has functioned as a filing office and repository of official state records. Over time, the office has acquired numerous other duties. The office oversees the following areas: elections, business registry services, occupational licensing, state agency rules and regulations, records management and international relations.

The secretary of state serves as the state’s chief election officer. Working with election officials in the state’s 93 counties, the office’s Elections Division oversees election law, the conduct of elections in the state, election tabulation equipment and the state voter registration system. The division accepts candidate filings and tabulates results for statewide, legislative, judicial retention and certain district elections. The division oversees filings for statewide initiative and referendum petitions.

The secretary of state’s office actively promotes election law reform, voter education and voter turnout. The office reaches students through various programs designed to teach the practices of good citizenship, such as voting and community service. The office sponsors Capitol Forum, Honor a Veteran and Youth Election Services. The office also has launched numerous online services to ease access to record keeping and banking for entities doing business in Nebraska.

The office’s Licensing Division protects the public interest by licensing or registering several occupations. The division oversees collection agencies, debt management agencies, credit services organizations, private detectives, truth and deception examiners, athlete agents and nonrecourse civil litigation funding companies.

The secretary of state serves as the state records administrator. The office’s Records Management Division assists state and local government agencies in managing the creation, use, storage and disposal of records in an efficient and economical manner. The division provides services and does consulting for government agencies. Services include the storage of state records and the conversion of records into different formats for storage. The division facilitates and publishes the creation and update of records retention and disposition schedules for all Nebraska government entities.

The secretary of state also serves as the state’s chief protocol officer for international relations. In that role, the secretary serves as a goodwill ambassador and promotes commercial, educational and cultural relations between Nebraska and the world. The office has hosted five diplomatic conferences where diplomats have come to Nebraska to learn about the state, and two foreign affairs symposiums to discuss Nebraska trade practices. The office also cooperates with the Nebraska Department of Agriculture and the Nebraska Department of Economic Development on additional trade and protocol events.

State Treasurer: Don Stenberg

Statutory References: Nebraska Constitution, Article IV, Section 1; 84-601

Salary: $85,000

Publications: Biennial report; monthly statement

Duties of the state treasurer include:

- receiving and keeping money of the state not expressly required to be received and kept by some other state official
- disbursing public money upon warrants drawn upon the state treasury according to law, and not otherwise
- keeping a true and comprehensive account of money received and disbursed
- keeping a just account with each fund, and each head of appropriation made by law, and the warrants drawn against them
- reporting to the Legislature within 10 days after the beginning of each regular session a detailed statement of the condition of the state treasury and its operations for the preceding fiscal year
- giving written information to the Legislature, whenever required, upon any subject connected with the treasury or duties of the treasurer’s office
- recording purchases made by the state investment officer
- safekeeping securities purchased for the trust funds and state agencies
- accounting and paying for money received by him or her as treasurer to the successor in office, and delivery of books and records of the office to him or her

The state treasurer is required to deposit, and at all times keep on deposit for safekeeping, the money in his or her hands belonging to the several current funds in the state treasury in state or national banks or in banks doing business in Nebraska of approved standing and responsibility.

The state treasurer administers the Uniform Disposition of Unclaimed Property Act. Under the act, unclaimed funds such as inactive bank accounts, uncashed checks, stock shares, insurance proceeds and utility deposits are remitted to the state treasurer’s office. The state treasurer then tries to locate the owners and return the funds owed to them. Funds that are not returned to claimants are deposited in the Permanent School Fund, and the interest from this fund is distributed to Nebraska school districts.

The state treasurer is responsible for administering the Nebraska College Savings Program, known as the Nebraska Educational Savings Trust or NEST. The state treasurer is trustee of NEST, which began operations Jan. 1, 2001. The state treasurer also is responsible for the Nebraska Long-Term Care Savings Program, which began in 2006.

Also administered by the office is the Achieving a Better Life Experience (ABLE) program, known as the Enable Savings Plan. The plan is a tax-advantaged savings program for individuals with qualifying disabilities in Nebraska and nationwide. The first Enable accounts opened in June of 2016. The state treasurer is trustee of the Enable Savings Plan.
The state of Nebraska has implemented a statewide system for receipt, distribution, and disbursement of child support. The state treasurer is responsible for receipting and disbursing child support payments. The Health and Human Services System is responsible for providing the state treasurer with distribution instructions for the disbursement of child support.

The state treasurer is a member of the Board of State Canvassers, the State Investment Council, the Quality Jobs Act Board and the State Records Board.

By the Organic Act of 1854, the governor and secretary of Nebraska Territory expended the funds appropriated by the U.S. government. An act of the territorial assembly, approved on March 16, 1855, created the treasurer’s office. The state constitutions of 1866 and 1875 provided for this office.

In 1964, voters approved a constitutional amendment changing the term of the state treasurer from two years to four years starting with the 1966 general election. No state treasurer may serve more than two consecutive terms.

Salary: $95,000

The attorney general is the state’s chief law officer, with duties authorized by the state constitution, statutory enactments and the common law.

The attorney general has been a constitutional officer since 1875. A 1919 legislative act created the Department of Justice to be administered by the attorney general. This department has “general control and supervision of all actions and legal proceedings in which the State of Nebraska may be a party or be interested, and has charge and control of all legal business of all departments and bureaus of the state, or of any office thereof, which requires the services of attorney or counsel in order to protect interests of the state.”

The attorney general has the same powers and prerogatives in each county as county attorneys do. Nearly 400 statutes direct the attorney general to perform duties. The attorney general:

• appears in court to defend actions and claims against the state
• consults with and advises county attorneys, upon their request, in criminal and public revenue matters
• writes opinions, without a fee, upon questions of law submitted to the office by the governor, by the head of any executive department or by any state senator
• prosecutes or defends the state, at the request of the governor or the head of any executive department, in all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, relating to matters of their departments
• ensures that various state funds receive the money the Legislature has appropriated to them and prosecutes the misuse of such funds
• prepares, when requested by the governor or other executive officers, proper drafts for contracts, forms or other writings for state use
• appears for the state and prosecutes and defends all actions and proceedings, civil or criminal, in the Supreme Court in which the state is interested or a party, and when requested by the governor
• appears for the state by request of the governor or the Legislature to prosecute or defend any action, or conduct any investigation, in which the state is interested or a party, before any court, officer, board, tribunal or commission
• administers the State Tort Claims Act and advises the State Claims Board
• advises and represents state agencies, boards, commissions and officials
• administers a Child Protection Division to assist county attorneys in the preparation of cases involving crimes against children investigates complaints of consumer fraud and antitrust activities files proceedings to test the constitutionality of any legislative act that in the attorney general’s opinion is unconstitutional compels any state government agency charged with implementing a legislative act to implement the act if it fails or refuses to do so reviews records to determine whether they may be withheld from public inspection pursuant to public record statutes consults with the secretary of state to administer election laws enforces healthcare professional licensing provisions represents the state in criminal appeals and habeas corpus proceedings administers a drug and violent crime prosecution unit to assist local prosecutors oversees and enforces compliance with civil and criminal statutes, regulations and settlement terms governing the use, manufacture and sale of tobacco/nicotine products within the state commences, prosecutes and defends actions affecting the rights of Nebraska water users in interstate streams as against appropriators in any other state and protects the interests of appropriators of water within this state in such cases represents the state in workers’ compensation and eminent domain proceedings

The attorney general is a member of the Board of State Canvassers, Board of Pardons, State Records Board and Nebraska Commission on Law Enforcement and Criminal Justice.

In 1964, voters approved a constitutional amendment changing the term of the attorney general from two years to four years beginning with the 1966 general election.

The Department of Justice is organized into five main bureaus: the Agriculture, Environment and Natural Resources Bureau; the Civil Litigation Bureau, which includes the Civil Litigation and Department of Roads sections; the Criminal Bureau, which includes the Criminal Appeals and Prosecution sections; the Legal Services Bureau, which includes the Legal Services and Administrative Enforcement sections; the Consumer Protection Bureau; and the Medicaid Fraud and Patient Abuse Unit.
